LSS of Wisconsin and Upper Michigan is hosting a webinar offering information and tools to help adoptive parents involve their loved ones in their adoptions and in their lives as adoptive families.

Whether in-process or already parenting, this positive session offers strategies to help parents establish boundaries, to proactively educate others about adoption, and to offer others a role in adoption.

The webinar provides insight into common perspectives others may have on adoption and examines how adoptive families benefit from educating those around them, thereby building a strong adoption circle for their family.
